Professional Summary

AI Automation Specialist, self-taught and driven by a passion for building systems that work. I specialize in workflow automations using Zapier and n8n, helping businesses cut down manual work by connecting their tools, streamlining processes, and keeping operations running smoothly in the background. Detail-oriented and reliable, I've supported executives and teams remotely across different industries, from logistics to social media. I bring both technical precision and clear communication to every project I take on.
